New addition to the Paul Smith Children's Village - Music

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(CHEYENNE, WY)- The Paul Smith Children's Village at the Cheyenne Botanic Gardens has a new musical addition. Staff have recently installed a vertical xylophone, known as the "Swirl," which is made of 25 chrome and brass chimes in C major and A minor, ranging in scale from soprano to alto. Children of all ages are welcome to play the instrument and make their own music while enjoying the outside Children's Village. "This is a great new addition to the Children's Village, because it provides an opportunity for music education, and allows for musical creativity in both the winter as well as in the summer," said Shane Smith, Cheyenne Botanic Gardens Director.

Floyd and Savannah Velasquez gave this gift in memory of their daughter Sara Marie Velasquez.

In addition to the Swirl, a tree bench was also added.
